

A group of five young people are gathered around a wooden table in a modern, well-lit indoor space. They are all looking down at a large sheet of paper on the table, which appears to be a map or a project plan. The person in the foreground, a young woman with long blonde hair, is pointing at the paper with her right hand. She is wearing a white t-shirt and a black watch. Behind her, a young man with long dark hair is also looking at the paper. To the left, a young woman with long dark hair is looking at the paper. In the background, another young woman with long blonde hair is looking at the paper. The text 'CO(YOUTH) WORKING.' is overlaid in large, bold, yellow letters across the center of the image.

2. to propose a useful guide to the organizations who want to open a coworking space (or to make more innovative the already existing one);
3. to value the role and the involvement of the public institutions and local networks into coworking space management;
4. to elaborate a cross-sectoral strategy of the coworking management that internally combines attention on “social impact” with a support to the startup development.
